

”IN THE NIGHT, IT’S EASY TO CONVINC MYSELF
THAT THIS IS ALL JUST A BAD DREAM.
I ONLY FEAR THAT AS THE DARKNESS SOON
GIVES WAY TO THE HARSH MORNING LIGHT,
I WON’T BE ABLE TO HANDLE WHAT I’VE DONE.”

MINTIE DAS
STORM SISTERS: THE SINKING WORLD

The start of a fresh and action-packed new series that takes the female heroism of The Hunger Games and The Mortal Instruments to the next level.

THIS IS WHERE THE ADVENTURE BEGINS! Charlie, Sadie, Liu, Raquel, and Ingela are five young girls travelling the Seven Seas on their own. To protect themselves, they have created a false identity as a fierce group of girl pirates, but will that be enough to keep them safe? As a vengeful father threatens Liu, the girls must head into uncharted waters. Will they be able to save a royal ship they know will be attacked by pirates before it is too late? And is it really a good idea to include a group of rebellious boys from their past on the mission?

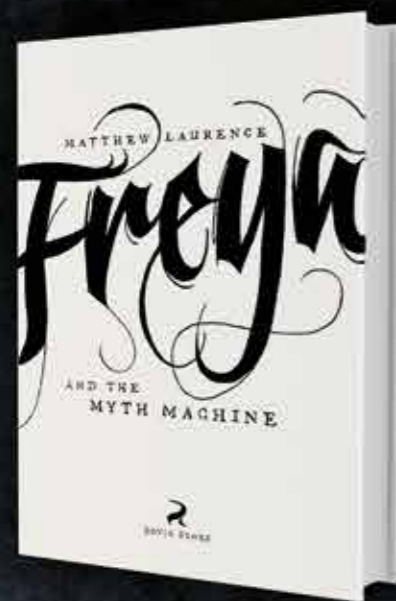

STORM SISTERS OFFERS A FRESH TWIST TO THE PIRATE STORIES OF THE PAST: THIS TIME IT'S THE GIRLS' TURN TO TAKE OVER THE SEAS!

MINTIE DAS was born in India, raised in America, and lives in Finland. She's been traveling the world since childhood and always finds inspiration from the discovery of the unknown. MATTHEW LAURENCE

Freya AND THE MYTH MACHINE

Freya is ancient. She is myth. She is legend. She is many things to many people. Over time she became a memory. But Freya is real. And she's about to make one hell of a comeback.

FIERY AND FREE-SPIRITED, SARA VANADI was once the Norse god known as Freya. Now she spends her days in a mental hospital in sunny Orlando, Florida, tending what little sparks of belief she can gather. But an ominous man arrives one day with an unprecedented offer: limitless strength and legions of believers should she work with his masters... or complete obliteration. Desperate to understand this new power—a shadowy conspiracy called Finemdi—she agrees to join their ranks. There, she meets allies and rivals whose actions will change the world forever.

A THRILLING NEW SERIES ABOUT AN ANCIENT GOD IN A MODERN WORLD.

MATTHEW LAURENCE

A designer and writer for over eight years, Matthew is consistently delighted that people actually pay him to make games. His career has taken him from Orlando and San Francisco all the way to Helsinki, Finland as part of Rovio Entertainment. Besides playing games of all kinds, Matthew writes and cooks for fun, travels with his wife whenever (and wherever) possible, and maintains an unhealthy relationship with Netflix.
